A copy of this certificate must be handed in on the Bridge when registering for the jump. A medical kit is kept on the bridge. First-aid trained staff are on hand on the bridge during operation.

BORDER FORMALITIES:

The Victoria Falls Bridge lies in "no mans land" between the Zimbabwean and Zambian Border Posts. Jumpers, spectators, etc. must indicate to the immigration officials that they are only proceeding onto the bridge and then returning through the same border post. Immigration officials will then issue two Gate Passes, one of which must be retained for re-entry through that border post.

Sufficient time must be allowed for to get from Vic Falls/Livingstone town to the border, through Customs & Immigration, then down to the bridge and up to the registration area to check in. As such, clients should leave town ONE HOUR before their appointed jump time.

REGISTRATION OF JUMPER:

The registration area is set up adjacent to the bridge on the Zambian bank of the Zambezi River. All clients are to proceed to the registration area prior to jumping. No special clothing, equipment or experience is necessary. Jumpers are advised to remove any jewelry and accessories.

Clients who have pre-booked and/or prepaid need to present their voucher at registration. The clients are screened, weighed, and registered for the jump. Registering includes signing an indemnity form, payment (or voucher presentation) and the recording of the payment transaction.

The jump number and weight is clearly written on the back of the jumper's hand.

THE JUMP:

The ankle harness has two components:

Padding to provide protection to the ankles. Mountaineering webbing (3,000 kg working load). The webbing is secured over the padding and around both legs just above the ankles, binding both legs firmly together. The knot used is a self-loading knot that is impossible to either slip or come undone during the jump. There have been over 500,000 jumps world wide using this particular ankle tie method without an incident of it slipping or coming undone.

The client is harnessed up for the jump and is safely attached at all times. Jumpers are placed in a waist harness with a separate attachment to the bungi cord as a secondary back up and for recovery back to the bridge. All connections to the bungi cord are made before the platform safety line is removed.

The Jumpers' weight is transmitted through the ankle harness to the bungi cord, which stretches out to approximately three times the original length. This elongation provides a gradual deceleration of the jumper's free-fall without placing any sudden stressful forces on the jumper.

Clients can decide at any stage not to jump. At no stage is anybody forced to jump or pushed. However, after the registration process has been completed, jumps paid for are considered non refundable and non transferable.

RECOVERY SYSTEM:

After the client has jumped, a recovery operator is lowered down to the jumper, who then attaches a recovery line to the body harness of the jumper. Both the jumper and operator are then winched back on to the catwalk below the bridge. During this process, the jumper is pulled into an upright position.

Clients are attached to a safety line on the catwalk and checked by a senior jumpmaster before being escorted onto the bridge road-deck.

GENERAL:

Digital photographs are taken of each jump and are available for viewing and purchase on-site.

Videos of each jump are recorded. These are available for purchase and may be viewed +/-10 minutes after the jump at the registration area. Each tape starts with a five-minute promo followed by the client's preparation and jump filmed from both the platform area and Zambian bank adjacent to the bridge.

Extreme Original Merchandising products are available for sale at the registration area. These currently include 4 different shirt designs, sweatshirts, shorts, caps, posters and postcards.

We accept all major currencies including traveler's cheques and credit cards. Please note that due to the fact that Zambian Banks will not accept Zimbabwean Dollars, we are unable to accept them as payment. Other difficult currencies include: Namibian Dollars, Australian Dollars, American Express & Diners Club credit cards. The export limit on Zimbabwe Dollars at the border is Z$ 15,000.00 and any excess may be confiscated by customs officials.

CANCELATION/REFUND POLICY:

Should a client decide not to jump PRIOR to the registration process, we will offer a full refund, however once a client has been registered and has signed the indemnity form, a 100% cancellation fee will be levied. Agents should only issue refunds to clients that present a written 'authorization slip' issued by our registration staff at the bridge.

* IMPORTANT

Operating hours may differ from those stated due to seasonal conditions (rain Nov to Feb & spray Apr to June).

The BV (bridge visit) gate pass does NOT entitle the client to visit Zambia or vice versa - he or she MUST HAVE THEIR PASSPORT STAMPED for exit by the relevant immigration authorities before proceeding to the next country!
